FlowServer

Pure Support - UK - 2019-02-21 - in Media Streaming and Flow server

Due to the increasing number of media servers available and the number of customers using their own media set up Pure did not want to limit customers to only using FlowServer. FlowServer is of course still an option however we will no longer provide a license key. If you would like to use FlowServer as your streaming option you still can. You will need to purchase your licence key from Twonky directly <http://twonky.com/>

Our internet radios and wireless speakers support any media server running uPnP version 1.0, some free software we can suggest are windows media player and Serviio. Instructions setting these up can be found here.
