BBC Radio 7 is missing?

On Saturday the 2nd of April the digital radio station BBC Radio 7 becomes BBC Radio 4 Extra. The change of name brings some changes to the programming including new extended versions of some Radio 4 programmes (including The Now Show and The News Quiz) but the majority of the programming will remain much-loved archive productions, and continue to focus on comedy, drama and entertainment.

You may need to retune your digital radio to receive Radio 4 Extra. On Pure radios this is done using the 'Autotune' option - refer to your user guide on performing the Autotune function on your radio.

You can also listen to Radio 4 Extra on the Pure Connect (Connect Pure.com) and will be able to access the additional podcast and listen again content online and on any internet connected Pure Flow radios.
